HI SCHOOL DIST. 210 ENGAGES ARCHITECTS

Childs and Smith, architects, a prominent firm of school architects of Chicago, Illinois, have been chosen by Community High School district 210 to represent the district in its future building program. The board unanimously decided on this firm at a special meeting held in Manhattan Wednesday evening. Thirteen applications from various firms of architects in the northern part of Illinois were reviewed by the board before the final decision was made. There were several good firms of school architects included among these applicants.

Childs and Smith have their main offices at 20 North Wacker Drive in Chicago. This firm has specialized in school architecture in the midwest for the past 30 years. The firm recently completed the Hinsdale High school and is in the process of completing the Freeport Junior High school which the board recently viewed. They are also working on the high school at Aurora at the present time and have been architects for a great number of schools in this part of the state. The board decided that this firm could give the district excellent service and develop the best possible building program at a reasonable cost to the district.

In discussing the various firms of architects, the board took into consideration the previous high school buildings built, the cooperation received from the contractors, the necessary time of completion, the cooperation with the school boards, the attention to details, the familiarity with present school problems, the time of completion of the buildings, the cost basis, and their general familiarity with the school problems of today. In all of these fields Childs and Smith rated high, and for that reason the board made the unanimous choice.

The board will immediately request the services of the architect to view possible sites for a building. When such sites have been obtained, they will be submitted to a vote of the people for their final decision. Various sites are now under consideration which have been recommended by the University of Illinois Survey committee.

Mokena Druggist Not Taken In by Racket

A Mokena druggist was not caught napping when he was the intended victim of a new kind of racket last Friday afternoon. When asked for assistance by a stranger so "crippled" that he was unable to leave his car, Henry Boleman, told the impostor that he had enough obligations of his own to fulfill without taking on any more.

This racket begins with a plausible story. The man "in the brace" called Mr. Boleman to his car, claiming he was too lame to get out. He said he was an old acquaintance and that the druggist might not recognize him because he had gained so much weight. Boleman neither recognized him nor the name of the man's father, Charlie Haynes, whom he claimed lived near Mokena.

The man, who was driving a green sedan, said that he had been taking training in leather work to make himself self-supporting; that he had called on the other business men to loan him enough money to buy his equipment and claimed he had collected $70.00 in sums from $10.00 up. He asked Boleman for $20.00 as he needed $90.00 in all.

The druggist who has adhered to the Business Men's association rule of donating, only through the group was "plenty burned up" to think that the others were not doing that and was too interested in asking them why they didn't follow the rules, to get the license number of the visitor. When Boleman contacted the others he learned that he had been the only one approached and that the slicker had evidently gotten the names from the signs on the stores.

Mr. Boleman wonders who will try to take him next. About six months ago he received a letter through the mail giving him an opportunity to get a fortune by supplying the funds to dig up buried treasure in Mexico; he turned that letter over to the postal authorities. In the 1920's he was solicited for the Spanish prisoner racket. He feels that publicizing any racket helps to protect the public.

MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED AT BOARD MEETING

Much business was transacted at the Mokena village board meeting held Tuesday evening. W. A. Muehler, Mokena resident, appeared before the board and inquired about the village practice in regard to building road and water main through his two acres along Wolf road and the west side which he intends to subdivide.

Winton Hamilton petitioned the board to pass a resolution, "To ask Mrs. Semmler to correct an article in the 1952, January 13 issue under the heading, 'Explanation of Water Supplied to Subdivisions', as verified by a letter from C. G. LeKander, president of the village board of Plainfield.

The village attorney recommended that the Mokena village treasurer be instructed to withhold payment of village water revenue until further information is furnished to village attorney who will investigate the possibility that all money paid to individuals from water fund has been paid illegally. That the village board is responsible after their attention has been called to the fact that such payment may be illegal.

A motion was made and adopted, "That the village treasurer be directed to collect all water revenues in the village of Mokena and surrounding area and retain these funds in the proper water revenue fund account and make no disbursements therefrom whatsoever to any individual or corporation until further direction of the village board, it being called to the attention of the village board by the village attorney that certain water extension contracts are probably illegal and are to be investigated further."

A report was given on the auto vehicle delinquents and a motion was passed to give such delinquent list to Judge Balaz for collection.

A new dog ordinance was unanimously passed that dogs four months or over must be licensed. To obtain license, dogs must be vaccinated against rabies and that the ordinance is to be published.

Robert Hohenstein was instructed to buy 35 street parking and stop signs. It was decided to place such signs in accordance with the parking ordinance.

Alvin Sorensen, village clerk, was instructed to contact the Rock Island railroad and have them repair a crossing.

Kenneth Sherwood reported of refuse being burned on village property, that such conditions are being corrected.

No action was taken on the petition which the village received as presented by Milton Geuther in behalf of the Civic association in regards to placing four waste baskets along Front street, but the board members suggested that metal trash containers be used in preference to the basket type.

A letter was received from the Miller Artesian Well company in Brookfield that the village engage them to test the village well for capacity and attain a record of the down-draw in preparation for getting a new pump.

Village Attorney Shenk reported that he had looked up the matter of allowing a Boy Scout cabin to be built in the village park and that that area may be used only for churches and public buildings.

Russell Anderson suggested that the filling of the vacancy on the board be tabled until the next meeting so as he could present names to be acted upon.

Those present outside of the board members and those already mentioned were Mrs. Kenneth Sherwood, Mrs. Winton Hamilton, Fred Lehmann and the attorney.

Special Civic Ass'n. Committee Reports

A special Scout committee appointed by the Civic association met with Scout leaders and the school board and the group agreed on a schedule providing facilities at the public school for the Girl and Boy Scouts. The committee investigated the building of a Scout cabin which would become a Civic association project; they considered several sites, property now owned by the association, a section of the village park, the plot on east Front street formerly used for the school and property owned by individuals. They visited a Scout log cabin near East Gary, Indiana in considering that type of building for Mokena Scouts.

In accordance with the Scout policy of using available facilities they inquired into the possibilities of using the churches but found they are not adequate for their own needs. Officers of the VFW offered the use of their basement but because of an adjacent bar room this would not meet the Scout standards.

In the meeting of the special committee with the school board and Scout leaders there was an open discussion of vandalism in the school. The Scouts meet only under adult supervision and any damage done to school property and attributed to the Scout groups will be handled directly between Scout leaders and the school board.

The school board is providing storage space for Scout property; the Civic association will provide cabinets. The committee expressed their appreciation of Edward Martie's consideration and efforts for the Scouts.

At present the needs of the Scouts are provided for. When they outgrow present facilities the Civic association may set up a committee to consider property suitable for community activities including the Boy and Girl Scout programs.

Following is a schedule for use of Scout and other group activities:

School Gym, Afternoons—4 Mondays per month, School Band etc., 4 Tuesdays per month School Basketball, etc., 4 Wednesdays per month, School Basketball, etc., 4 Thursdays per month, Girl Scouts, 4 Fridays per month, School Basketball etc.

School Class Rooms, 3:30 to 5:00 p. m.—4 Mondays per month, 8th Grade Room, Troop 88; 4 Tuesdays per month, 8th Grade Room, Troop 41; 4 Wednesdays per month, 8th Grade Room, Troop 42; 4 Thursdays per month, School gym, Troop 40; 4 Fridays per month, 1st Grade Room, Troop 107 (Start time 3:00 p. m.)

The School Gym is to be used by the Scouts instead of the classrooms whenever the Gym is not in use for school activities. The school principal is to notify the Scout Leader.

When there are more than 4 single week days in the month, the preceding schedule is to be maintained.

Complaints (if any) are to be handled by the School Board direct with the head of the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

87 YEAR OLD CHURCH YIELDS TO DEVOURING FLAMES SUNDAY A. M.

BURGLARS CARRY OFF SAFE OF GARAGE

When Harold Cooper arrived at his place of employment, the Cooper & Hostert garage in Mokena Tuesday morning, he was surprised that uninvited guests had been there sometime after midnight.

Entrance had been gained by breaking a window in the door on the east side. Upon investigation, Elmer Cooper one of the owners stated that the only thing taken was a small safe from the office. In the safe was about $15 and some notes. The notes are all recorded, so there loss is not too important. The desks in the office were ransacked and papers were strewn about.

It is estimated that the safe weighed about 400 pounds. The thief was reported to the sheriff's office and was investigated by Lt. Roy Doerfler.

Thieves were also reported to the sheriff's office by Mr. Kin-kade at New Lenox. He reported that while he was away from his home over the week end, someone had entered his home and took two guitars valued at $120.

Neighbors reported having seen a Ford car in the Kinkade yard with three young men in it.

Fire which is thought to have started from a defective chimney, completely destroyed the Homer Congregational church last Sunday morning about 8 o'clock.

After James Coleman, the church attendant, who lives within a block of the church, had left the edifice shortly before 8 o'clock after having built the fire in readiness for the usual morning service, everything seemed alright. About 10 minutes later he looked from his home and saw smoke coming from the building; he rushed to the church basement and attempted to use a fire extinguisher kept there, but the dense smoke prevented him from doing anything and he had great difficulty in finding his way out of the building.

Mr. Coleman at once called the Lockport fire department which responded with two trucks; a large group of men quickly congregated, but it was impossible to save anything in the building. In a few minutes the entire structure was in flames; firemen thought the small cupola at the front of the church provided a natural draft engulfing the interior in a mass of flames.

The fire fighters concentrated their efforts on the Wells Corner public school building located between the Coleman residence and the church, toward which the wind was carrying burning debris from the fire. All furnishings were taken from the school as a precautionary measure, but they were able to keep the building from being damaged except for a slight scorching.

The church, situated near the center of the township half a mile south of route 7, is a landmark which was built in Civil war days and contained many irreplaceable relics. An addition of a basement dining room, Sunday School rooms and a stage was added to the church about 25 years ago. The church was valued at $15,000 and carried $7,000 insurance.

The congregation which numbers about 70 members, gathered in the Coleman home for a short service after the fire had died down, and discussed plans for rebuilding. Solicitors began work in the neighborhood Sunday afternoon to raise money for building a new church and at that time about $1,000 was raised. It is estimated to replace the church will require about $35,000 at present prices.

Arrangements have been made to hold Sunday School and church services in the Homer town hall next Sunday at the usual time 9:45 and church at 10:45. Rev. Harold Findley, of Gary, is the visiting pastor.

A delegation from the Lockport Congregational church called upon the Homer congregation Sunday morning and offered the facilities of their building to the Homer group.

Free Bulletin Helps Lots in Picking Best Corn Hybrid

A couple of hours spent in reading free Bulletin 522 should help Cook County farmers greatly in choosing the best corn hybrid for their farms this year, announces farm adviser Carl E. Mees.

This bulletin, just issued by the Illinois College of Agriculture, reports the performance of 326 hybrids tested at eight farms in 1951. It compares them as to yield, moisture content, lodging, weight of ear and percentage of stamens on some hybrids, resistance to corn rots, corn rootworm, northern leaf blight, stalk rot and ear rot was measured too.

Mees says you'll find important differences among hybrids on the above-listed points. About 61 hybrids were tested at most farms. Differences in yield between highest and lowest hybrid at each field ranged from 12 to 37 bushels an acre last year.

More reliable three-year averages show differences in yields between highest and lowest hybrid at each field ranging from 12 to 25 bushels an acre. You'll find the highest yielding hybrids (3-year average) for the eight fields in the summary.

It's rather expensive to get this information by experience, the adviser says, when you can get it from Bulletin 522.

The bulletin tells how large the difference in yield should be before you can credit it to the hybrid.

Damage from northern leaf blight was the worst ever found in Illinois last year, but in the test fields hybrids differed widely in susceptibility.

Legionnaires Ask For More Beds in V A Hospitals

Charles C. Shaw, Paxton, commander of the Illinois American Legion, will head a delegation of 20 Legionnaires who will attend the National Rehabilitation conference of the American Legion in Washington, D. C., March 4-7.

The Illinois delegation will ask that the Veterans' Administration provide more beds for mental and active tuberculosis cases. Because of a lack of beds in VA hospitals, there are now 2,400 veterans of World War I and II in state hospitals and some 380 active cases of TB in county and private hospitals.

The delegation will also ask for beds at Downey and Danville, where mental hospitals for veterans are located.

Another issue to be raised by the Illinois delegation will be a request for the VA to decentralize the adjudication of death claims and move this office from St. Paul, Minn., back to Chicago.

How to Grow 100 Bushels of Corn Per Acre

This farm soil has what it takes to grow bumper corn yields.

WHAT does it take to grow a 100-bushel per acre corn crop? Four main essentials are necessary, says the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee:

1. Good seed. Plant well adapted hybrids that are particularly suited to your growing conditions.
2. Be sure you have enough stalks per acre. That means from 14,000 to 16,000 on most loam soils.
3. Provide the soil with sufficient amounts of well-balanced plant food so it will be able to feed the crop all season long—from germination to maturity.
4. Keep the soil in shape to take in plenty of water and hold it for the corn crop's use. An inch or two of rain can make the difference between average and high yields when dry spells come.

Agronomists recommend giving the corn a kick with a starter fertilizer at planting time. They advise adding nitrogen, phosphate and potash in the row and side dressing with nitrogen, fertilizer, where needed after the second or third cultivation. The sustaining fertility that will provide the backlog of nutrients the corn plants need for building strong stalks and well-developed ears, can come from fertilizer plowed under before planting time. A soil test will indicate what nutrients are most needed and the amount required to furnish a well-balanced supply.

Keeping the soil in shape to absorb and hold water depends on maintaining high reserves of organic matter. This you can do by following a rotation that puts in a well-fertilized legume-grass crop a year or two before corn planting. Land plowed out of a good sod crop is mellow, fluffy, well drained and able to supply the moisture a corn crop needs for extra bushels per acre.

Build a Poultry Feeder

The farmer who is handy with tools can make rainy days pay off by using them to put together needed equipment. A weatherproof outdoor poultry feeder, for example, is simple to build and once in use it will encourage proper feeding, reduce waste and prevent contamination of feed.

For ease of cleaning and durability, it is suggested that the feeder be made principally of asbestos-cement board.

This feeder holds one and three-quarters bushels of mash. During the summer months it should be placed in a shaded area. Poultry will go without feed during the heat of the day unless it is easy to get to and protected from the sun. Complete instructions can be obtained free by writing the Asbestos Farm Service Bureau, 221 North LaSalle St., Chicago 1, Ill.

Balance Sheet

Lesson for March 9, 1952

It is not every man who at the close of his life can look back and say that life has brought him more than it took away. Death, or the approach of death, is a reminder it is time to balance our books. There was a man named Paul sitting in a Roman prison. He was to be tried on a capital charge, and there was no certainty that he would be acquitted.

Yet if the Romans had only known it, that solitary prisoner, whose very food was provided by the charity of friends, was the happiest man in Rome. He looked back over his eventual life and in a letter to his friends, while admitting that he had lost much, counted everything well lost in comparison to what he had gained. The balance sheet of Paul's life showed no deficit, but an enormous balance on the credit side.

Losses Written Off
PAUL gave several "thumb-nail" autobiographies, some of which are included in the Scripture readings for this week. So we know pretty well what he had to give up. What would strike most of us today is his loss of comfort and security. Modern Americans want above all to be comfortable and secure.

Probably Paul missed comfort and security as much as any man, for he was born to both. But as an "ambassador of Christ" he had had to give all this up. He had long since exhausted whatever money he may have had; he had to work at hard manual labor to support himself; he was a constant traveler, which in those days did not mean Cadillac cars, Pullmans or even foam-rubber bus seats; it meant dirt and fleas and bad food and seasickness and wrecks (we know of four he had); it meant sometimes being half-starved, sometimes robbed and always in danger of armed robbery.

His Worst Losses?
BUT there was worse. A wise man does not count hardships his heaviest losses. To lose freedom is more serious. And Paul (when he wrote to the Philippians) had been under arrest for more than four years. He had been jailed at Jerusalem first, then for two years in Caesarea, then a journey in chains to Rome, and then in Rome for we don't know just how long.

Paul was just the temperament that feels imprisonment most keenly. Active, vigorous, always on the go, the four walls of a cell or even the four walls of a house must have galled him terribly. But perhaps worst of all was loss of standing in his home community.

He was born both a Jew and a Roman (as a Jew today may be a good American or a good Frenchman too); but the Jews looked on him as a traitor to his race, a man not fit to live; while the Romans regarded him as a crack-pot at best, a subversive agitator at worst.

Whatever advantages Paul had had at birth or by education, he had definitely lost long before the end.

Credit Balance
YET Paul, in writing up the balance sheet of his life, calls everything he had lost so much trash, in comparison with what he had gained. To his mind it was like losing a truck-load of ashes and finding one diamond.

We ourselves, not being, alas! saints, if we had fixed up his balance sheet, would have put some items on the credit side that he does not mention. After all, he was then and still is Christendom's first citizen.

For many of us, and all of us call him Saint, which means he belongs to God's aristocracy. You can afford to lose a good deal for that; He was also, and still is, close to the top, if not at the top, of the list of the most influential men in the world's history, aside from Christ himself. He is this, because almost half the books in the New Testament were written by him. Yet he does not say, speaking of his life's hardships, "I count these things as nothing in comparison with my position as leader... the fact of my sainthood... my contribution to the Bible."

We know what his life-ambitions were: "to testify the good news of the grace of God"; "to gain Christ—to know him—to share the power of his resurrection, the fellowship of his sufferings"; and "by all means to win some." These things he did; these things no hardships and no enemies could keep him from doing. With these things on life's credit side, the debits were trifling.

Full Feed of Plant Nutrients Pays Off In Extra Bushels of Spring Seeded Grains

SPRING seeded small grains will pay extra dividends in more bushels per acre at harvest, if you give them a full feed of fertilizer carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash. You will also get more hay and forage from the legume-grass crop seeded with the small grains.

The Middle West Soil Improvement Committee cites these benefits from providing wheat, oats and barley with an adequate supply of nutrients at seeding time:

- 1—You will get more stalks and heads per seed.
- 2—Grain will be plumper and of higher quality.
- 3—You will get a better seeding.

Make sure your soil has a good balance of nitrogen to phosphate to potash, the committee advises. All of these nutrients have to work together to establish strong roots, build stiff straw and high yielding grain. If your soil is short on one nutrient and long on another, the plants can't develop and mature and give you bushel-building growth.

Well-fertilized seeding yields more grain and forage.

The committee says that the number of stalks from a single seed can be doubled through the use of fertilizer.

Almost 25,000 persons travel ed to Alaska by car last year reports the Chicago Motor club. They spent at least 30 days in round-trip travel and a minimum of $800 for two persons in a car.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

They Do "Give A Hoot" For Easy

Easy Roberts finally got rid of the noisy pigeons that used to whoop it up under his eaves.

He must have tried a dozen ways to scare them off. But no matter what he did, they would be right back cooing by his window the next morning.

Then Easy thought of an old stuffed owl he had in his attic. He propped it on the roof so's all the pigeons could see it. They left... and three hoot owls have taken their place. Easy swears the hooting is even worse than the cooing of the pigeons.

From where I sit, quite often a "bright idea" will turn out to be "not so bright" after all. That's why we should never be too cocksure of our ideas and opinions—but always try to keep an open mind. I believe a refreshing glass of beer is the best thirst-quencher — you may believe differently. But who's to say one's right and the other is wrong? Let's just practice tolerance. It'll save a lot of hootin' and hollerin'.

Candidate Masters Opens Headquarters In Joliet

Attorney Frank H. Masters, Jr., one of the two candidates for the state's attorney's nomination on the Republican ticket has opened headquarters in room 220 and 221 in the Braun-Kiep building on Chicago street in Joliet. Mr. Masters has announced that Melvin E. Pohl of Joliet is in charge of the headquarters which is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and in the evenings by appointment.

Mr. Pohl was affiliated with the Will County Laymen's Law Enforcement League and has been active in the laymen's law enforcement groups in Joliet for a number of years.

Large signs and pictures announcing the headquarters are posted on the above building.

Farmers Invited to Information Meeting

Through the cooperation of the Extension Service and the Farm Bureau, arrangements have been completed to hold an all-day informational meeting on soils, crops, insect control, and soil conservation next Tuesday, March 11.

In order that folks in the eastern part of the county will not have to drive so far to get this information, arrangements have been made to have two meetings running simultaneously, one in Beecher in the Community building, and the other in Joliet in the basement of the Ottawa Street Methodist church.

Meetings at both places will start at 10:00 a.m. and adjourn at 3:00 p.m.

O. Scott and H. B. Perry will appear at Beecher in the morning and in Joliet in the afternoon, while C. Linsley and E. Walker will appear in Joliet in the morning and at Beecher in the afternoon.

In order to give ample time for questions and discussions, each speaker will talk for 40 minutes with a 15-minute question and answer period. It's expected that at least 300 farmers will attend this all-day meeting. Ladies as well as men are invited to attend.

Seek 3,000 New 4-H Members in Drive

A goal of 3,000 new members has been set for Illinois 4-H's in their membership drive during National 4-H club week, March 1 through 9.

The 1952 goal in Illinois is 60,000 members. In 1951 there were some 57,000 4-H's.

During National 4-H club week, special invitations will be extended to eligible boys and girls in each county to become new 4-H members. Boys and girls from 10 to 21 years of age are qualified to join and "learn by doing" some farming, homemaking or community activity. Young folks who are interested can ask their local county farm or home adviser for enrollment cards.

Krusemark Backs Herschbach's GOP Candidate Campaign

A prominent Will County attorney Albert H. Krusemark, Jr., of Frankfort, has announced that he is wholeheartedly supporting the campaign of Walter O. Herschbach, GOP candidate for the office of state's attorney.

During the past week, Krusemark actively began campaigning thruout the county for his fellow townsman. He has pledged himself to continue such activities thru the April 8 primary election. In openly endorsing Mr. Herschbach for the job, Attorney Krusemark has stated repeatedly that he believes Herschbach is the man for the job and is best qualified to fill that important office.

Attorney Krusemark, in his open endorsements, points to the stand taken by Sheriff Ernest E. Overbey and together with him states that Herschbach always has worked sincerely for good government and clean politics. Krusemark, together with Sheriff Overbey is appealing to those interested in law enforcement and good government in the county, to vote for Herschbach.

One of two candidates for the GOP nomination for state's attorney, Mr. Herschbach is a Frankfort boy. Born in the eastern section of the township, he was educated in the Frankfort public school and later graduated from JTHS and the University of Illinois. A Will county attorney for the past 15 years, he served overseas with the Navy in World War II. During the 1950 Republican campaign, he served as Volunteer Workers' chairman.
